

Design, Layout, and Publication Support (for ACPD)

Project Title	Design, Layout, and Publication Support (for ACPD)
Project Summary	Assist the Advisory Commission on Public Diplomacy in the design, layout, and publication of its reports, memos, and other public messaging efforts, including the creation of infographics to best convey key messages.
Country	United States

Project Description

The U.S. Advisory Commission on Public Diplomacy, a bipartisan, independent commission located at the State Department, is seeking a skilled designer in layout and graphics, with expertise in Adobe Creative Cloud (i.e. InDesign, Photoshop, etc.) and infographics design. The Commission regularly publishes timely research and reports on public diplomacy, particularly its Congressionally-mandated Comprehensive Annual Report (<https://www.state.gov/pdcommission/reports/274698.htm>), which includes substantive analysis and review of public diplomacy spending worldwide. This is a great opportunity to put your design skills to use and get a bird's eye view of how the United States supports foreign policy goals through its engagement with foreign publics.

Required Skills or Interests

Skill(s)
Cultural diplomacy
Data analysis
Data visualization
Design thinking
Infographic design
Social media management
Writing

Additional Information

Required skills:

- Adobe Creative Cloud, including InDesign and Photoshop
- Basic training in theory of design and data visualization
- Interest in foreign policy, public affairs, public diplomacy, cultural affairs, educational and professional exchanges, press and media engagement, international broadcasting

Language Requirements

None